“900” SFIC SERIES

PACLOCK’s “900-IC” Series padlock is an industry first! The world’s baddest lock mated with the most ubiquitous cylinder known provides customers with a superior security solution. Our “900-IC” Series padlocks are precision CNC’d for quality and dependability and work with your 5, 6, and 7 pin SFIC interchangeable cores.

Our “900-IC” Series is manufactured from hardened steel that is then electroless nickel plated for extreme toughness and resistance to the elements. The “900-IC” padlock is the industry leader in extreme security – with its solid hardened steel body, this padlock will withstand head on attacks from boltcutters and hacksaws! The “900-IC” padlock is ideal for locking up high security locations and heavy machinery and equipment.

The “900-IC” padlock comes ready to install your SFIC cylinder! Each lock features a non-key retaining brass actuator and dual locking stainless steel ball bearings. With our design, PACLOCK significantly reduces the ability for the lock to be shimmed and pulled!

The “900-IC” Series comes standard with a 1-3/16” hardened steel shackle that is nearly half an inch thick! With PACLOCK’s quick change shackles, you can easily adapt your padlock to any application with a turn of a wrench. Change the shackle height to meet your needs.

Don’t limit what you can protect! PACLOCK provides multiple keying options so that you can give direct access to people you can trust. With multiple keying options available, lockup or lockout heavy equipment, zones, and access points.
